

Preparatory Works

Dear Neighbours and Stakeholders,

Mount Anvil always prioritises the health and wellbeing of our residents and staff. Therefore, we have decided to begin the preparation of the next phase once the lockdown has ended.

The aim is always to provide a safe construction site for residents and site staff. This could include wider foot paths to ensure our staff have enough space when passing one another. As well as larger office space to adhere to the social distancing recommendations.

A skeleton crew may be visible on site over the next few weeks to carry out these changes, which include:

- Deep Cleaning throughout all our offices and welfare facilities
- Displaying signage reminding our workforce of social distancing and keeping healthy
- Widening of walkways on-site to ensure enough distance is kept between everyone (requires a machine to level the ground so we can create a concrete pathway)
- Setting up a satellite office to minimise social distancing
- Construct 2 additional staircases which reduces people using the same staircase

The individuals have been selected by way of also ensuring they drive to work and park in our basement carpark, reducing travel on public transport.

Please note that even though we have planned to carry out these Health & Safety related works this in no way indicates that Mount Anvil plan on restarting any construction related works at this stage.

We will keep you informed through regular updates. Thank you for your patience and understanding.
